The physical properties of matter depend on the motion of atoms.